the inspiration behind the initiative

We all know that theatre has the power to be a catalyst for change. If you've been to the theatre, you've likely experienced this. For many artists and patrons, we can't imagine life without it. There's nothing more exhilarating than a play that cuts to the core of humanity and pulls at you - heart and soul. Watching Glory Die is one of those plays. It's a play that EVERYONE needs to see. But not everyone has the opportunity.

what we're doing about it

Windsor Feminist Theatre has partnered with four non-profit organizations who assist, care and treat those living with various challenges. These organizations include: Maryvale, Welcome Centre for Women and Families, Crossroads, and Hotel Dieu Grace. Their work focuses on mental health care and resources for children and youth, providing safe spaces for women and families, and youth and adults coping with addictions.

We are pleased to highlight the important work of organizations, and are proud to give them the recognition and acknowledgment for their work in our community. Throughout the run, representatives from the organizations will be present in the lobby to answer questions.

We will distribute complimentary tickets in your name to the clients, families and staff of our participating organizations as well as students, arts workers and volunteers!

the initiative that keeps on giving

Finally, a portion of the proceeds from this campaign will support our 12 interns in Windsor and their travel in Edinburgh where they will develop their skills and knowledge of producing indie theatre while engaging in theatre by artists from around the world!

your participation

This initiative to provide access to the theatre for those who do not have the opportunity to go is a way of paying it forward. You can support our project, the young people on our team, and many members of our community all with the purchase of a couple of tickets.

Decide how many tickets you wish to purchase - 1, 2 or 25! Tickets are $20. (No tax or admin fee)
